Is the Difficulty Removed f It is argued that although the city is not legally bound to pay the volunteers who have onlisted since the exhaustion of the opposition. It was announced that there 24,000, voted last December, yet there is an honorable obligation to do so, because they onlisted with the expectation of receiving a bounty, and that this expectation of our Aldermen of the fact that he had was justified by the fact that we have once voted and paid such bounty. A Word for the Soldier.

About two months since I called upon a soldier who was home on furlough. In the course of conversation, I remarked "You soldiers, doubtless, after your long hardships and fatigue, feel somewhat home sick and tired of the war?" " His reply was: · "When the soldier is alone or picket on the frontier, then we have time to reflect and think of our wives and little ones, and when we know they are provid ed for we feel less homesick."

As his mind dwelt upon the subject great tears rolled down his sunburnt cheeks as pointing to his little children playing up on the pure floor, (no wilton carpet there,) he exclaimed: "We soldiers love the old flag as we love our wives and little ones, and if we can but feel and know we are sustained and approciated, we will stand by her until she waves over overy foot of eouthern soil."

How natural! how expressive! Tax payer, great or small, will you button your pecket against such men?

The Postponement of the National Un-

There seems to be a growing desire to have the National Convention, for the nomfirst week in June, at which time it is call suchusetts, with eleven thousand six huned, to a later period—say the first week in dred and forty-one. But I will read the September. Many of the leading Union abstract nished : journals of the country have been asking Cashe New York.... for the postponement, and we think the National Union Committee would do: well. to act on the suggestion, and put off the convention for a month or two at least a If for the space of three months to come we can adhere carnestly to the single purpose of fighting the rebels, leaving presidentmaking entirely out of the question, we can certainly bring our traitorous foes to terms of submission to the properly constituted authorities of the land. This grand object accomplished, we could then enter upon the presidential canyass, which need not be a lengthy one. Our principles will be so well defined, that the bare statement of them would really be all that would be necessary. Would not the Fourth of July be a glorious time for the holding of the National Union Convention? At any rate, we hope the postponement will be offected.

Spare the Expense, Gentleman.

The Chicago Committee, appointed to make arrangements for the National Democratic Convention, it is said have decided upon the erection of a suitable building in which to hold the convention. Whether the committee have succeeded in purchasing or leasing ground enough, on which to erect the contemplated mammoth strue- ery sontiment, thought, hope, passion, ac ture, we have not learned. Our advice is, spare the expense, Gentlemen-the big house, we think, will hardly pay. "The poor old Democratic party—the party of the Seymours, Woods, Vallandighams, &c., is "dead as a door nail." If you are not so far bankrupt every way as to be unable They ask nothing less than universal emanto bury the rotton carcass, leaving it to cipation; and this they ask directly at the its last long sleep, you had better be doing this job at once, and leave off castle-building. This petition is signed by one hundred thousand men and women, who unite in this unparalleled number to support its prayer. They are from all parts of the country and from every condition of life. They are from the son-board, fanned by the free airs of the ocean, and from the Mississippi and the prairies of the West, fanned by the free airs which fertilize that extensive region. They are from the families of the educated and uncolneated, rich and poor, of every profession, husiness, and calling in life, representing evtivity, intelligence which inspires, strongthons, and adorns our social system. Here they are, a mighty army, one hundred thousand strong, without arms or banners;

the advance guard of a yet larger army. · But though memorable for their numbers, these petitioners are more memorable still for the prayer in which they unite hands of Congress. No reason is assigned. The prayer speaks, for itself. It is simple, positive. So far as it proceeds urally a potition, and not an argument. there is no reason so strong as the reason of the heart. Do not all great thoughts come from the heart?

It is not for me, on presenting this petition, to assign reasons which the army possibly remind you of the "glorious doe But I may properly add that naturally and obviously, they all feel in their hearts, what reason and knowledge confirm, not only that slavery as a linu, one and findi-ELEVATING THE WRITES TO THE LEVEL visable; is the guilty origin of the rebel-or the Negro—Major General Peck, in lion, but that its influence over where, even an official order just published, states that consider the rebel. Vaulting ambition nover more complete y overleaped itself and met a more humilating full, than in the case of Mr. Blair. The scene in the House on Wednesday between that gentleman and Mr. McClurg need not be recalled to the reader. Had Mr. Blair chosen to exercise a few, grains of common sense—of which desperation seems lately to have deprived him—instead of attempting to carry his points by sheer dint of brass and impudence, he could never have received the terrific exceriation administered by Mr. McClurg. Frank P. Blair, Jr., has been afflicted with the hallucination that the mantle of the great Benton dropped upon his shoulders, and that Missouri and the country were made for him alone, and that for citizens to seek any other interest than his personal advancement was a species of criminal presumption. The radical representatives from this State he essayed to treat as interlopers, unauthorized and vulgar intrudors on his loyal estate. He proposed thus to demolish them and establish him-self. Unhappily for him, they have not chosen to cower in his presence as before a demi-god, nor tamely to pocket his supercillious and stintless abuse. Unhappily for Mr. Blair, Mr. Bonner did not elect to submit to the false and coarse imputations of complicity in forgery. We repeat: Mr. Blair drew upon himself the terrible exposure made by Mr. McClurg, who was simply driven to the course he took by the libels of the former.—St. Louis Democrat.

[Advertisement.] SPECIAL NOTICES. INSURE WITH THE MUTUAL LIFE INSU-RANCE COMPANY OF WISCONSIN-IT IS THE DHOENIX BEST COMPANY FOR WESTERN MEN!-The reasons why this is the best Company, are That it is a Western Company, made up of and managed by Western men, doing all or nearly all its business in the Northwest, and concentrating in this one Company a superior class of risks, mostly of sis youngmen, or men in the prime; of life, and they selected with as great care in regard to eligibility to Life Insurance, as are the risks of any other company. $5,000.

It is true that the Company has neither the age nor the accumulations of some eastern companies, but is gaining the lattervery fast; is vigorous for one of its age; is doing a large business, having issued 637 policies in the months of December and January just passed, and is doing its business as economically as the same can be done anywhere. It has for its guide, the experience of all older companies, and among its managers some of the best business men in the northwest."

This is the first successful effort ever made to build up a similar institution in the West, and it should be the pride, as it certainly is the interest, of every business mun in this section of the State, to identify himself with its growth.

This Company issues non-forfeiting policies upon which premiums are paid in five or ten annual payments. These nonforfeiting policies are very desirable, as they guarantee to the policy holder the benefit of all the money that he pays into the Company, and also enable him to pay his premiums for the whole of life while he is young, or at an early period, thus relieving him from the burden of payment in old age. Insurance upon this plan, (as well as on all other policies that this Compeny issues) become due and payable at death, should death occur before the fenvenra expire.

It also issues the endowment policy which becomes due and payable to the party assured at a stated age specified. These latter policies are becoming quite popular, and are particularly desirable for young men.
